

I feel that the current limits on broadcast ownership are sound. After the boom of conglomerates in radio since 1996, the likelihood of a repeat in television broadcasting is high. Keeping ownership caps ensures varying voices, which is key to the media. A unified voice can be a good thing, but not if it is the only voice.